Scholarships

We know that many students aspire to go to uni to gain a degree or go to TAFE and study towards a diploma, but for many students the costs make this unattainable. Higher education isn't free, it costs $20,000–$45,000 to complete a Bachelor degree and, and if you have to live on campus, the fees are on average $20,000 a year. And that's before you buy any textbooks, study materials, or IT equipment!

Scholarships exist to increase opportunities for someone just like you to access higher education. Being awarded a scholarship could mean the difference between accepting or turning down a place at university.

There are scholarships specifically tailored to the needs of regional students, and even though you might not think you are eligible, no matter what your situation or background, there is a scholarship that you can apply for.

Examples of types of scholarships include:

- Access for regional and rural students
- Residential scholarships
- Travel and study grants
- Placement grants
- Areas of study, such as agriculture, the health professions and teaching
- Scholarships for people from diverse backgrounds.

In case you are thinking you won't have a chance, let's address some common myths about scholarship success. Many people think that to get a scholarship:

- You need to be academic.
- The odds are against you because so many apply, and you don't have a hope.
- You have to be good at writing essays.

None of these are true. It is true that you will not get a scholarship unless you apply for one!

It is also true that your chances of success depend on finding the right scholarship to suit your circumstances and needs.

There are a number of key steps to follow to enhance your chances of success:

1. Commit: Decide that you want to apply for a scholarship
2. Assess: Find scholarships that you are eligible for
3. Research: Look far and wide
4. Knowledge: Know your audience/know what they are looking for
5. Awareness: Pay attention to your competition
6. Quality: Proofread everything!
7. Determination: Perseverance furthers! If at first you don't succeed – apply again, and again...

Timing: when do you apply?

It is important to take note of the opening and closing dates for the scholarship you are applying for - different scholarships will have different timelines to adhere to. Make sure you allow plenty of time to prepare your application and to collect any additional information or documents that may be required.

VTAC Scholarship Applications: What are they?

Many Victorian universities use the VTAC platform to process scholarship applications, particularly for students applying to study for the first time. There are various types of scholarships you can apply for through VTAC, including:

- Financial disadvantage
- Academic Achievement
- Being the first in your immediate family to attend university
- Being an Indigenous Australian
- Being a refugee or asylum seeker
- Having to relocate to attend tertiary study
- Intending to live on campus
- Having been in formal out-of-home care
- Having a disability or medical condition that affects your education
- Having experienced difficult circumstances that have affected your education
- Community service
- Leadership
- Being a student from Gippsland committed to regional and rural health and applying to Monash.

How to apply via VTAC:

1. Applications are open 31st July and close at 5pm on 6 October. You'll need to complete your application and provide all additional information and documentation by that deadline.
2. Go to the VTAC website - www.vtac.edu.au
3. Create an account with VTAC or log in to the one you have already created using your VTAC ID & PIN.
4. Select 'Scholarship Application' in your VTAC user account (all applications are submitted online)
5. Enter all your personal details & provide additional information if required

Not all institutions use the VTAC platform to process scholarship applications. Below is a table showing the institutions that use VTAC and the eligibility requirements. For other institutions, refer to the relevant links at the end of this guide.
